

Safe Schools is unsafe

- Safe Schools is promoted as an anti-bullying program but in fact is a radical gender ideology program.
- Children are taught that they should not use the term “boys and girls” and being heterosexual is not the norm.
- Safe Schools tells students they have two virginities, their first time with a boy and first time with a girl.
- Students who question any Safe Schools content report being bullied.
- Safe Schools pressures children to celebrate homosexuality and transgenderism.
- Safe Schools teaches children that traditional cultural, moral and religious beliefs on sexuality are unacceptable.
- Gender ideology is taught in all subjects across the curriculum.
- The program is based on unsound research and biased sampling.
- Safe Schools normalises early sexual activity and trivialises risks of STDs.

Schools should be about our children's education and not promoting radical sexual ideologies.

On a Safe Schools ‘Rainbow’ day, “a panel said we needed to accept that two people of the same gender should be allowed to be married. [It] is unacceptable that the school is telling children what political viewpoint they should take.” - High school student

“Our daughter felt victimised for just believing that it was better to have values that centred around the traditional family unit. She was deemed ‘homophobic’ by some of her peers, for not ‘being one of them’. - Parent of high school student

Safe Schools is bad for kids.

In WA, Labor and The Greens are committed to fund Safe Schools.

Be careful how you vote.

GENDER:
How Safe is
Your Child's School?

In WA, Labor & The Greens have committed to fund and further roll out the controversial Safe Schools Program.

Do we want this program promoted in WA, as it has been enforced in Victoria? It encourages:

- Boys dressed as girls, and girls dressed as boys
- Girls and boys using each other's bathrooms and changerooms
- Boys competing in girls' sports and vice versa
- Four-year-olds told: "Only you know whether you're a boy or a girl"

WA Labor leader Mark McGowan has committed to providing $1.4 million over four years to push 'Safe Schools' into WA's public secondary schools.

All Australians want schools to be safe.

But don't be fooled: the Safe Schools Program is not an anti-bullying program.

Safe Schools co-founder Roz Ward:

"Safe Schools... [is] not about stopping bullying, [but] about gender and sexual diversity."

Safe Schools* partner Minus 18 is "Australia's largest support network for gay, bi, lesbian and trans youth" and promotes links to sex shops and gay nightclubs.

All Kids Matter Australia

The Safe Schools Program was launched in schools in Victoria more than six years ago and has been rolled out across Australia.

It demands that all students not only accept but celebrate LGBTI lifestyles, and learn about intimate aspects of alternative sexualities.

It discriminates against teachers and children who have a different opinion due to their cultural heritage or beliefs.

The program takes a whole-of-school approach – parents cannot opt-out.

The program overrides their parental right to shape their child's moral values.

More effective and inclusive anti-bullying programs by Australian researchers promote respect for all people irrespective of their gender and sexuality.

If you believe that all kids matter think and vote carefully on March 11.
